

Insurance companies gave Ann Marie Buerkle's campaign money in hopes she would help them draw the line on women's health. And it worked.

Ann Marie Buerkle received $62,850¹ from insurance companies and voted to allow them to deny women access to birth control, mammograms and even cancer screenings.²

Buerkle sided with the insurance companies and against us and our families.

- She voted to allow insurance companies to discriminate against women by denying access to birth control, mammograms, cancer screenings and STI testing³
- She voted to defund Planned Parenthood, cutting 1.4 million people off from their source of health care⁴
- She voted to cut family planning services for approximately 5 million women and men⁵

83% of her contributions for this election have come from outside her district.⁶ Who do you think she looks out for?

Special interests can count on Buerkle — but we can't.
